Fairfield U. Defeats Bridgeport Cagers

By AL LEPOW

Playing their third game in as many days, a tired but very game UB cage squad lost a thriller last Friday night to their arch rivals, Fairfield University. Final score was 88-79, evening the season's series between the two clubs at 1-1. This contest also marked the end of the current campaign for both schools, UB finishing with a 21-7 record, and Fairfield with a 10-9 mark.

The tough grueling schedule that saw the Knights play 27 games, plus their 800 mile round trip venture to Maine, took its toll as the UB squad just couldn't muster enough strength to keep pace with their refreshed rivals.

The contest, marred by the calling of 58 personal fouls, was a wide open, free scoring affair. No fewer than nine men were banished from the game via the five foul rule, and at game's end, only Charlie Stetson remained of the starting five. The Stags lost three of their starters, but managed to hold on to their nine-point lead until the final whistle blew.

Sensing that the Knights were a tired lot, the Stags kept up a continuous running attack. UB, led by Dick LaBash, kept pace throughout most of the game, but lacked that little extra to pull them through.

Stetson, tallying time after time with his one handed push shot, paced the local lads with 12 points in the first half. LaBash, with eight foul shots and two field goals, also scored 12, but the combination of Bobby Gerwein's shooting, plus Stan Such-enski's rebounding, kept the Red Stags out at front at intermission time, 42-38.

The third period found the Bridgeporters rallying to come within three points, but once again Fairfield had the advantage of rest, and ended the period still leading.

In the final quarter, Coach Glines tried every possible solution in order to help salvage the game, but to no avail. Marshall 'Mousey' Lowe garnered eight points in that period, but that was more than offset by Joe Kehoe's 10.

High scorer for the game was Bobby Gerwein with 27, followed by UB's Charlie Stetson with 22. Dick LaBash, with the season's high of 12 fouls, mustered 18 points. Lou Saccone had 16, and Gus Seaman had 13. Seaman, as per usual, led the rebounders, coming up with 20 while Saccone gathered 15.

Teaching Courses Open to Graduates In Liberal Arts

The Connecticut State Department of Education has announced plans for an emergency training program to take place this summer. This program will attempt to combat the existing shortage of trained teachers in the state.

Students who have graduated from a liberal arts college will be eligible to apply for the eight-week training in the educational field at any one of the state teachers colleges at New Haven, Danbury, New Britain, or Willimantic.

Acceptance into this program virtually assures the candidate placement in the Fall. Upon successful completion of the session, a teacher's certificate will be awarded. This is renewable every year by successful teaching in a classroom and by taking a minimum of six semester hours in "In-Service" work until the full teacher's requirements are met.

M'selle Contest Open to UB Galls

UB undergraduate women have been invited to join into a nationwide short story contest offered by Mademoiselle, a magazine for young women. The contest is open only to non-professional undergraduate writers in order that there might be equal opportunity for all.

The deadline is midnight, April 15, 1952.

Further information may be obtained at The SCRIBE office.

MSA Buys Tools, Cuts Taxes to 15%

By RON GOLD

The cutting in half of the 30% alien-resident income tax has paved the way for improvement of the Mutual Security Agency plan as set up at the University. MSA has promised to purchase tools for the foreign-born students who are seeking employment in the greater Bridgeport area.

The MSA has also stated that the students will receive $6 a day as pay from the agency until the workers start their jobs. The payments will be retroactive to Feb. 20. The MSA has even taken one step further in the desire of making the students happier here at UB; the governmental agency has promised to pay University bills run up by the education-hungry students.

The problem of getting positions in American factories has been a difficult one due to many outside influences such as important war work, the union shops, and the capabilities and talents of the workers involved.

The many-fold problems have brought the feeling of anxiety, insecurity, and all-around frustration into the minds of the 50 students who have not as yet been employed. The problem, which has been coming up in every MSA influenced, calls for complete cooperation between all factors. It is hoped by US and MCA administrators and American and foreign-born students that the plan will come to pass in a better light.

The case of Biss Jensen is one that shows just how the foreign students felt until the MSA concessions of a few days ago.

Bill is a married man and is the father of two children. Like many students, Bill is homesick for his loved ones. This 'despondency' plus the fact that his talents as a toolmaker were being idled on his present job added up to the fact that he purchased a return trip ticket to his native Denmark. Bill has felt as though he was promised too much overseas.

Although it is a sad case, the Jensen problem is one incidental case.

Center Drive Reaches 1/3-Mark

PICTURED ABOVE is the artist's conception of what the first floor, or the dining-lounge area of the Student Center Building will look like when completed. In the left rear can be seen the cafeteria where the students will be able to purchase low-cost hot meals as well as sandwiches and fountain items.

The Student Center Building Fund Drive, begun a week ago last Tuesday, has met 33% of the goal set for the student part of the drive. Approximately $5,200 of the $15,000 has been reached in the first week of the drive.

Harvey Seltzer, drive chairman, has expressed a hope that the drive, after showing such a fine start, will reach the goal importance of getting this much-needed building completed by fall. "To do this we have to meet the May 1 deadline set up by the Alumni Assoc."

Any students who have not been contacted and want to donate funds to the drive should contact Mr. Ray Olive, Development Fund Office, 2nd floor of Cortright Hall.

Circus Dance March 28 in State Armory

Officials of the University Campus Chest have announced Friday, March 28, as the date of the Annual Circus Dance, a charity affair, to be held at the State Armory from 8:30 to 12:30 P. M.

The Circus Dance is held each year to raise funds for the University Campus Chest, and designed to enable the student body to take a larger share in the support of local, national, and international charities without being subject to constant solicitation.

Every active organization on campus is requested to man and decorate a booth at the dance, and to supervise games of skill and fun. Prizes will be awarded to winners. Entertainment, door prizes and a full evening of dancing are the features of the affair. Prizes will also be awarded for the most original booth, the booth that brings in the most money and for the best decorated booth.

Art Dept. Designs Exhibit for Today

The Art department is working overtime to stage one of its finest art shows to date. Under the direction of Miss Carolyn Buck with the assistance of Ray Lombardi, Bias Stefanov and Norman Farquar, the show will be presented this afternoon at 3 P. M. in the Art Studios at Fairfield Hall.

The combined efforts of the Industrial Design and Arts Classes will be on display. Paintings, figure drawings, samples of commercial art, posters and designs in packaging will adorn the walls of the studio. Also on exhibition will be actual samples of machines, and housewares.

Officials Urge Students To Lock Their Cars

In view of the recent outbreak of thefts around the campus, University authorities strongly urge students to lock their cars. Don't leave valuable items lying around in a car in full view so as to invite theft.

BOOKSTORE STARTS DRY CLEANING AND STUDENT LAUNDRY SERVICE

The UB Bookstore will incorporate a dry cleaning and finished laundry department in the near future, according to Richard Mountain, manager.

Vice-President Henry W. Littlefield has already made several investigations of laundry firms so that the students will be assured of fast service and fair prices.

Campus Interviews on Cigarette Tests

No. 36...THE OTTER

A usually mild-mannered and easy-going lad, he really made the fur fly when he realized the trickiness of most of the so-called cigarette mildness tests! He knew there was one honest test of cigarette mildness. Millions of smokers everywhere know, too — there's one true test!

It's the sensible test... the 30-Day Camel Mildness Test, which simply asks you to try Camels as your steady smoke — on a pack-after-pack, day-after-day basis. No snap judgments! Once you've tried Camels in your "T-Zone" (T for Throat, T for Taste), you'll see why...

After all the Mildness Tests...

Dr. Becker Plans Book on Colleges

Dr. Harry Becker, Dean of Administration, has been granted a four-month Sabbatical leave by the trustees. During this time Dr. Becker plans to write a book on the place of Community Colleges in the American Educational System.

The research for his book takes Dr. Becker to New York University where he will teach a course in American Colleges.

In order to be granted a Sabbatical leave a member of the faculty must have been at this University seven years. After the required length of time his leave is approved by the Board of Trustees and he may do any of the following:

1. Work for professional improvement.
2. Work toward degree or advanced degree.
3. Do independent research.
4. Write and/or travel.

Previous members of the faculty which have had Sabbatical leaves include Pres. James H. Halsey, Vice-Pres. Henry W. Littlefield, Dean Ropp, Prof. Helen M. Scurr, and Prof. William Everett.

Several members of the faculty will be eligible for Sabbatical leave during 1952-1953.

Music Featured During March

The March Schedule of the music department shows that the already-busy organizations are very much in the middle of campus events.

This Sunday afternoon students from the music department will present a program of chamber music at the Universalist Church, Fairfield Av.

"Across My Desk" will feature a soloist from the department next Monday evening, while Jane Marshall and Barbara Voorhees will provide music on the March 24 show, aired over WNAB, 8:30 P. M.

On Tuesday, March 25, students from the department will present a program for the Universalist Woman's Guild. Music will also be given at the convocation that day.

Over Fifty Years of Public Service

By MANAS STERNSCHEIN

The big news this week is the fraternity dances scheduled for the near future. Delta Epsilon Beta is having their fifth St. Patrick's Day Dance this Friday night and from the looks of it, should be the best ever. The dance will be held at the Glorieta Manor and the price will be $2.00.

Next week, March 21, Sigma Phi Alpha is having their annual Spring dance. The name of it is the "Cottonball Capers" and it promises to be really something. The type of show they're presenting has never been performed at this school before. It's gonna be a Minstrel Show and from the previews, a good one. The place is Lenny's Wagon Wheel and the price is $2.00.

Congratulations to the new pledges who have just been inducted into Theta Sigma: Steve Michaels, Walt Langhorst, Bob Flynn, Bob Burgess, Andy Demotses, Larry Kelley, Joe Zemaitus, Nick Porcaro, and Fred Mills. The pledges deserve a pat on the back for the excellent work they did for the Red Cross. They drove Red Cross trucks and picked up blood at the railroad station. Arthur "Dutch" Hardy just elected Treasurer of the Inter-Fraternity Council. Pi Omega Chi had a student-faculty tea last week. Very nice affair.

Beta Alpha, the accounting fraternity, announces that they are accepting subscriptions to their annual publication, The Accounting Review. This is a must for all accounting and business majors. Theta Sigma Alumni Association just became incorporated. SPA making plans for their big Spring week-end. More news on this later. Sigma Lambda Chi wants me to thank everyone for them for the swell turnout at their dance. Also, all those who were connected with making the dance such a big success. It was the biggest crowd I've seen for any fraternity dance while I've been a student at this school. Almost too big.

By the way, did Bobbie Hertz ever find her shoes? ... I've been getting a lot of complaints from fraternity members who've been telling me that I'm never putting in any news about their organization. The only reason that a fraternity won't get mentioned in this column is because I haven't been given any information on the doings of that group by one of its representatives. So, in the future, if you want news of your fraternity in this column, make sure it is gotten to me.

DEB has invited over 100 alumni to their dance. POC had preliminary pledge ceremonies last Friday night. TE had a cocktail party for members only at Barbara Kelly's house just before the SLX dance. Everyone agreed it was a nice way to start off an evening. Charley Smith did a great job in writing up the preliminary report on the proposed "sinking fund". Kappa Beta Rho paid tribute to their fine intramural basketball team which ran up a winning streak of 34 games before being dumped. The celebration lasted far into the night. It's a good thing they didn't have a game the next day.

Norman Victor, Sigma Phi Alpha, home on leave from the Air Force. Rumor going around that Theta Sigma, after their last pledge initiation, is on the road to bankruptcy. The week-end cost over $300, what with having to pay for a quartet, and a private piano player, and bartender, to say nothing of the price they had to pay for the Barnum. They

Draft Tests for Deferment to Be Held April 24

By SAM LUKIANUK

Thursday, April 24, will be T-Day for many area college students who will invade UB's campus to take the Selective Service Qualification Test.

"T-Day" means "Test-Day" of course. And it will mean "sink or swim" to thousands of students whose further attendance in the nation's schools of higher learning depends upon their achieving the coveted exam score of 70 or better.

Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, U. S. director of selective service, has announced that 63% of the students who took the first four tests made a score of 70 or better, which indicates the same level of ability as a score of 120 on the Army general classification test. Only 16% of the entire population of this country is capable of achieving such a score.

By taking the test and passing it, a student may receive a 11-S deferment.

ought to get in touch with Mr. Protheroe.

Alpha Delta Omega in the midst of their pledging. "Hellweek" for POC is really two weeks. From March 14 to 28. DEB getting ready to start their pledging. Pi Delta, national honorary journalism fraternity, having their annual initiation banquet on April 21. New members to be inducted are John Smith, Dave Rodgers, Dick Handler, Janet Golden, Roger Rubin, Ruth Zucker, Abby Elstein, Ginny Tennant, and Bob Paul. AGF and TS planning a joint stag in the near future. I hope everyone has seen the new POC birthday sign in the Snack Bar. The sign was built by Chuck Levine and Leigh Dangenberg and the cake was supplied by Marv Walter.

Bob Sohigan, of SLX tells me that as soon as he finishes collecting and counting the money from the journal, he'll let us know. From what I understand, it was a nice tidy amount. KBR getting ready to start their pledging. Both Curt Brotherton and Dave Rodgers have opened their homes for the benefit of the pledges, members and their dates. POC and BG are having a joint "Silver Mardi Gras" at Lenny's Wagon Wheel on April 4. More on this later. Sigma Lambda Chi has started their pledging which will last for three weeks. Marty Fleckner and Mark Ritter are the pledgemasters, which isn't very good news for the pledges. I understand that they have some great stunts for the pledges to perform. That's all for now. See you next issue.

POLITICAL RELATIONS FORUM ATTENDS MOCK LEGISLATURE

Participation in the fifth annual Mock Legislature attended by 18 Connecticut colleges and universities on March 7 and 8 was a success as far as the University of Bridgeport delegation was concerned.

Bridgeport won a double distinction in the proceedings at the state capitol. Of three proposed bills by UB legislators, two of them passed through the House and the Senate.

A proposal by Ben Snow for more state aid to the blind and a bill establishing compulsory automobile insurance as a precedent to registration of a motor vehicle, by Vic Muniec, successfully withstood the arguments of senators and representatives.

Representative Emilio Riccio's bill requiring dental technicians to have a state license before being permitted to practice easily went through committee but because it was placed far down upon the calendar, failed to come up for debate.

A major setback in the UB political maneuvers occurred, however, when the University delegation leader, Beatrice DuPont, was defeated in the election for the position of President of the Senate by Dick Byork, of Yale.

Members of the Political Relations forum who attended were: Bea DuPont, Vic Muniec, Kav

Boyhen, Fran Stein, Andy Demotses, Roz Rappaport, Arlene Kaplan, Bob Samuels, Ed Kovacs, Stan Labak, Emilio Riccio, Ben Snow, and adviser Prof. William T. DeSiero.

'52 Student Directory 'Out' Because Of Date

The annual student directory, published by the University, will not appear this year, according to word received from Mr. Wendell Kellogg, director of Public Relations.

Instead, the directory will be mimeographed to serve the University offices with a record of all students' addresses.

The reason given for dropping the project was twofold: the lack of co-operation in compiling the correct information and the lateness of the publication date as far as the spring semester is concerned.

Stereotypes

Most students of higher education will profess a broad understanding and a deep appreciation of the interests and aspirations of all individuals and yet they repeatedly demonstrate professional prejudice during their everyday campus life.

In a university as large and as diverse as Bridgeport, a student naturally concentrates his interests in one specific field or major and consequently builds up close personal relationships with other students who have similar academic preferences. Because a music major, for example, goes to music classes day after day during every semester, he is in constant touch with other music majors. In extra curricular hours they practice together, belong to the same organizations, and congregate together in the Snack Bar and library. It is also the same with sociology, engineering, English, and the other majors on campus.

Such common-interest relationships are, of course, automatic and desirable, but they have also tended to produce harmful prejudices among the various interest groups on campus. Students are erroneously stereotyping each other as English, psychology, or secretarial majors and associating particular personal traits with the majors to such an extent that remarks like "Don't invite him, he's a stuffy literary-minded English major who couldn't be bothered with our group," or "You have to forgive his absent-mindedness and quietness — he's a music major," or "All those political science majors are always looking for an argument."

What students are forgetting is that regardless of their majors, they are all bound by common, required, basic courses of study, by the very purposes of a university to further interest in and learning of ALL knowledge, and by the same emotions and basic desires. Psychology, one of the required colleges courses, proves the falsity of stereotyping and still it persists in this insidious manner on campuses throughout the nation, not to mention the business world.

Unless men and women learn to regard all individuals as human beings having the same fundamental aims and to respect their many specific tastes and interests while they are still in college, they cannot honestly profess to be students of higher education.

Our Beautiful Campus

The University of Bridgeport has many, many commendable attractions — among them a beautiful campus located in an industrial city and yet secluded in spacious mansions with pleasing grounds that overlook a picturesque view of the sea.

As you walk to classes, look around at the beauty of your campus, then take careful note of how many students display their pride in the University by throwing papers all over the ground and stamping out cigarettes on the floors.

The Snack Bar, which is thoroughly cleaned once or twice a day, is a disgusting mess by 11:30 A. M. Ashtrays are completely disregarded and the floor, tables, and shelves are almost completely covered with empty coffee cups, sandwich wrappings, and paper bags. If you walked into a home that was as littered with rubble as the Snack Bar you would be appalled and yet you sit leisurely in there completely oblivious to the papers and trash underfoot. Is this not vaguely reminiscent of a rather obese animal that wallows in mud and filth?

This carelessness of students is also obvious in Bishop Hall and, to some extent, all the rest rooms, the dormitories, and even in the library, where papers are left crumpled up on the tables. Besides the fact that this is complete disregard for the people who do the cleaning and for property that belongs to every member of the University, there are conveniently located waste baskets, ash trays, and disposal cans in every room on campus. Nowhere are you more than a few steps from a disposal bin.

If people who are neat and fastidious about their own homes can be so utterly shameless at school, how can they even dare hope for a student center building and the many other facilities they are continually pleading for. It is about time for everybody on campus to take a good look around and weigh the unattractive against the attractive features of the University and to realize that the only unattractive areas are the direct result of disrespectful students.

City Council Assures University Of Lights 'When Material Available' Campus Lights To Be On Until Then

After an editorial appeared in THE SCRIBE concerning the lighting situation on campus, Vice-Pres. Henry Littlefield wrote another letter to Alderman Walter Grom.

In the meantime, the Alderman had brought the case up before the City Council. The Council decided that the UB area should have more lighting and that we WILL get it as soon as the government releases vital copper used in the manufacture of the light fixtures.

To offset this delay in the appearance of light along the walks of the University campus, Dr. Littlefield sent a letter to Supt. of Grounds Nolan, requesting that the lights on all campus buildings be left on until 11 P. M. Sunday to Thursday, 12:30 A. M. Friday, and 1:00 A. M. Saturday.

The lights on Bishop Hall and in front of Fones Hall will be lit at the above times. Dr. Littlefield stated that he is open to suggestions as to how and where to place more lights so that the students will be able to see their way around campus.

Shades of St. Patrick, the GREAT day has arrived at last. March 17 is the anniversary of the day St. Patty drove the darty snakes from the land of the green sod and brown potatoes, and it is affitin and proper that all the heathen pay their respects on this great day for the Irish by a 'wearing of the green.' And if that H'Englishman Arthur Toft is 'a wearing of the orange on that fateful day, he will be arun o'er by a GREEN Plymouth.

Give credit where credit is due: And it is due to Dr. Littlefield for his prompt action taken to correct the misunderstanding concerning the hourly rate paid students who were hired during the second two weeks in January, and also for those hired particularly for the purpose of working during registration. Briefly, the background on the situation was this: student help was paid at $.75 an hour for the first two weeks in January and students hired during the second two weeks naturally assumed that they were being paid at that rate of pay. However, the rate had been changed back to $.60 an hour. Since the case was pending in the Connecticut courts on whether the University would have to pay $.75 per hour or not. When it was brought to Dr. Littlefield's attention that students had not been properly informed as to the correct pay rate, he quickly had the rate set at the $.75 rate for the entire month of January. Another problem solved by YOUR STUDENT COUNCIL.

Beth Drexler and Marlene Fanta became the "Heroines of the Night" in Wistaria last week when they discovered a burning sofa at 2 A. M. Beth had been cutting her way through the smoke, when, while remarking "My, haven't the girls been smoking heavily tonight?" she discovered the smouldering couch. Both being members of Volunteer Fire Dept. No. 682948, state of New York, they did not lose their heads, but, carefully ignoring the fire extinguisher next to the couch, they obliterated the blaze with cups of water and by beating it to death with a soda bottle.

The Linden Hall closed house party featured Betty Sarmast as M. C. (mighty cute) and the theme was the "Old Music Hall." Ellen Block did a dance to "An American in Paris" (that's ZE old music hall?), Renee Court and Nonie Somyas impersonated the Blots, er, Ink Spots, Millie Riccio and Rita Ross did an old soft shoe, there were many many can-can girls, and Rhoda Goldstein sang "Are You Lonesome Tonight?" Reportedly quite a success.

The Healy Hall Queen is Nina Silver who will receive a corsage and a chow mein dinner for her triumph. It was a difficult decision for the boys and they really had a difficult choice to decide the final winner. The runners-up were all in the running, and the actual winner won by a tie-breaking vote. Congratulations, Nina.

Seniors to Get Prizes in June

One hundred dollars worth of prizes, donated by William and Regina Winter, will be awarded to graduating seniors in the College of Business Administration at commencement this June. The awards will be presented to three students who demonstrate, in an especially prepared, paper, ability in research, reasoning and expression.

The 1952 awards are: First prize, $50.00; Second prize, $30.00; Third prize, $20.00.

A committee made up of Profs. Ralph Yakel, William H. Protheroe, and Ralph L. Cohen will act as judges in the contest.

In order to qualify, one must be a graduating senior enrolled in the College of Business Administration. The student who wishes admittance to the contest must register his intention with a committee member and the paper must be submitted to the committee by May 15. Dean Eaton V. W. Read and Pres. James H. Halsey will be informed of the winners by May 23.

For further information see Dean Read or any committeeman.

Informal Baseball Is Planned for Campus

By VIC MUNIEC

Plans are being formulated for an informal baseball team under the sponsorship of the students with the approval of the administration.

Bob Kondracki has taken over as coach and manager of the squad with Dick Handler in charge of the business arrangements.

Several pro ball players will be available to the squad. Ed Lengyel and Bob Kondracki have had pro experience as pitchers. Al Jessup reportedly has had several offers from major league clubs as a pitcher.

Baseball veterans from last year's squad, Hal Trischman, Walt Budney, Lou Saccone, Joe Iovino, Andy Olayos, Mac McCabe, John Micka, Babe Longo, Don Henckel, Zeke Carroll and Lefty Brown could easily form a winning combination.

Candlelight Stadium is available for some big games which the squad will play. Most of the games, however, will be played on the Seaside Park diamonds.

The University has donated all equipment on hand as well as the use of the locker rooms for the team.

An organizational meeting was held last Monday. Plans are being laid for possible early Spring practice in the K of C hall.

Students interested in trying out for the team are asked to contact Bob Kondracki as soon as possible.

Members of the team have expressed hope in booking such clubs as Holy Cross, Boston College, and UConn in addition to many teams that were on last year's schedule.

In view of the fact that there will be pro-ball players on the team, other schools will probably consider these games as "Exhibition" games so as not to endanger their record with the league in which they play. The UB team does not have that trouble, since it is an unofficial team.

UNIV. LASSIES WIN AND LOSE

The UBettes tasted both defeat and victory within the past week in hard-fought, thrill-packed games in the YWCA basketball league.

Defeat came at the hands of an aggressive Sterling House squad in a close game (40-35). Jean Johnston did yeoman work for the UB cause by tossing in 20 points.

The victory came over rival St. Vincent's Hospital by a close 28-25 margin. Joan Glover, hitting with her accurate hook-shot, sank 17 points to lead the attack. Beth Drexler and Jeanette Randall, with four points each, also aided the Purple cause.

The UBettes record is now four wins and three losses. The next game is scheduled for next Tuesday in Danbury, at 8:00 P. M. against the Danbury War Memorial Club.

IM Cagers in All-Star Clash

Fraternity or dormitory superiority in the intramural basketball battle will be determined at 5:00 P. M. this afternoon at the K of C hall when the two league leaders clash in the championship match.

As a preliminary contest to the classic struggle, ten selected All Stars, chosen from the players of both leagues will play starting at 3:30 P. M.

Men chosen as All Stars but scheduled to play in the final game will not play with the All Star squad. The first five All Star squad will be chosen from the two teams competing in the final playoff and from the players in the preliminary clash. Selection will be based on season-long performance as well as performance in the final games.

TRIP WELL WORTH EXPERIENCE, SAYS SCRIBE SPORTS EDITOR

By AL LEPOW

Making history, the University of Bridgeport's basketball team journeyed to Waterville, Me., to compete in the New England Regional Tournament of the National Association of Intercollegiate Basketball, last week. The cage squad, returning after three days, captured third place in the tournament, falling before favored Colby College, and whipping Providence College the next night.

Amid the gayest send-off ever rendered a UB team, the Purple Knights, along with Coach Herb Glines, Manager Joe Iovino, and this reporter, left the Bridgeport railroad station Tuesday evening and arrived at Portland, Me., the next morning. Connections in Portland were made, and at about 2:00 P. M. Wednesday afternoon, the aggregation arrived in Waterville.

After getting situated in a hotel, the squad travelled to the Colby fieldhouse for a brief workout before dinner. After dinner, a general skull session was held and scouting reports gone over. At 7:15, the troupe again arrived at the fieldhouse, to view the first game between Providence College and American International. Little by little, the team drifted into the locker room to dress, and at 9:15, the Purple Knights took to the floor.

We lost, 83-70. Thursday morning rolled around as usual, and after a quiet breakfast, souvenir hunting became the order of the day. Reversing the usual procedure, Mousey Lowe left Waterville, a remembrance—his tooth. It came out in a dentist's chair, after exerting much pain to its former owner.

Thursday night, before a crowd of 2,100 fans, the Purple Knights displayed a world of power and talent, defeating a strong Providence College quintet, 77-69. Sparked by the fine all around playing of Co-Captain Gus Seaman, and the deadly accuracy of Charlie Stetson, the UB squad captured third place honors by winning this game.

At midnight Thursday, a tired but happy band of guys boarded a train bound for Boston. A group of guys who tried their best, and gave no quarter were on their way home, while at home, 2,000 fellow students were proudly awaiting their arrival.

As the train slowly chugged to a halt in Bridgeport, the most welcome sound ever heard came fourth. It came from the reception committee, the band, the loud speakers, and most of all, from the students, welcoming back their heroes. That alone was worth the trip.

Six Teams Fight For Pin Honors

The race for intramural bowling playoff positions has developed into a six team battle with little indication of who the top four will be in the finals.

AGP, (26-6) has managed to hang on to a slim lead over SPA (25-7) and the BBJ's (25-7) with the teams of Beta Alpha (279) and APO (27-9) hot on the heels of the leaders. The All Stars are still in contention with a record of (22-10).

Finals are scheduled to take place on March 24 and 25.

Olympic Time Tied By UB's Anastas

The local YMCA swim team, made up of present and former UB tank stalwarts, will seek carry its undefeated record into the National College Swimming Championship to be held in Cleveland during April.

Frank Anastas, outstanding aquatic star, recently tied the Olympic free style record. Sand Mehorter has the distinction of being unbeaten to date in the diving events. Mehorter has beaten both divers of Yale's famous swim team.

Meets are held every Saturday afternoon at the local YMCA, and are open to the public.

Mar. 17 Is Deadline For Girls' Tourney

Deadline for representatives of sororities and dormitories entering final competition in the girls intramural table tennis, chess, and checker tournaments is March 17.

Representatives should contact Toni Salvucci at the athletic office for playoff scheduling.

J. Paul Sheedy* Switched to Wildroot Cream-Oil Because He Flunked The Finger-Nail Test

"Take your hat 'n goat and scr-r-ram!" Sheedy's girl said. "I won't give you a date, but your hair sure gives me a billy-laugh!" But-but-but—"he butted. Said she, "Haven't you herd of Wildroot Cream-Oil? For well-groomed hair it can't be beat! Non-alcoholic. Contains Lanolin. Helps you pass the Finger-Nail Test. Relieves dryness. Removes loose dandruff." So Sheedy got Wildroot Cream-Oil and now every gal wants to horn in on his time! Better milk 29¢ out of your roommate and hoof it to the nearest drug or toilet goods counter. Buy Wildroot Cream-Oil, America's favorite hair tonic. And ask for it on your hair next time you goat to your favorite barber shop. Then no other goat will get your nenny!

Track Starts on April 23: New Britain Host to UB

By VIC MUNIEO

The University of Bridgeport varsity track team, under the direction of Coach Kay Kondratovich, will open its 1951 schedule against New Britain on April 23, in New Britain.

Prospects for a successful year appear to be brighter than for previous seasons. The absence of Spring football practice from the University sports scene will enable the Purple and White athletes to concentrate on Track.

Missing from last year's track team will be outstanding miler, Jack Gaston, and dash man Howard 'Mop' Morrow.

A solid nucleus of proven track veterans is returning, however, to carry the standard for the University.

Phil DeBrieul, high jump star, is returning after a year's absence from competition due to an operation. DeBrieul has jumped as high as six feet in competition.

Fred Flashenberg is expected to carry the mail in the quarter mile. The pole vault and the javelin throw will be in the capable hands of Sand Mehorter.

Curt Grande ranks high among the athletes as a javelin thrower and high jumper. Lou Saccone promises to dominate the shot put and discus events with assistance from Don Barresi. Barresi has just returned from a stint in the armed services.

"Duck" Marchette has always run well in the 220. Speedy Harold Austern will aid the dash men over the 100-yard course.

Among the newcomers to the University expected to greatly help the track team are Charlie Stetson and Joe Butler. Both of these men are good distance runners with plenty of endurance.

A completely victorious season is difficult to predict at this stage of the year, but indications are that the Purple and White track standards are due for a decided lift.

Students interested in the track team not as yet contacted by the athletic office should get in touch with Coach Kondratovich as soon as possible.

With basketball no more, an unfamiliar lull hangs over the normally bustling sport scene here at UB. The boys have returned from their venture into the far North, played their last game, and are now on the road to recuperation, storing their strength until next year, when once again the call for tryouts is announced.

Capturing third place in the New England Regional Tournament of the NAIB, the Knights displayed a fine sense of sportsmanship throughout and gained many new friends for the University of Bridgeport. Proud in victory as well as gallant in defeat, the entire squad is to be commended in their successful job as ambassadors of good will, bringing only praise to this institution.

The tournament produced many thrills, and although beaten in the first game by Colby College, the Knights played a fine game. Gus Seaman and Charlie Stetson led the scoring for both teams, but the Colby height plus the Colby referees was just a little too much to overcome. Also add to this the fact that the White Mules, according to an official spokesman from Colby, played the "greatest game any Colby team has ever played," and only one verdict can result. The proof of the pudding came the next night, when little American International College whipped the Mules to claim the championship of New England.

Thursday night, the UB quintet emerged victorious from their clash with Providence College to gain third place. High scorer again was Charlie Stetson, closely followed by Ernie Amarel. The real story of that contest will never show in the box score, but on that night, the entire arena was given one of the greatest lessons in basketball ever viewed in the New England area. The lesson was given by none other than UB's own Gus Seaman.

Controlling both backboards almost singlehandedly, Gus did everything that night except referee the game, and probably most of the fans would have preferred to see him do that also. Of the 77 points chalked up by the Purple and White, at least 50 of those can in some way be credited to Gus. Not to take any credit away from the other members of the squad, they all played an exceptionally fine game, but it soon developed into a one man show. Passing off, intercepting opponents passes, and dazzling the opposition with his ball handling, the fans sensed the greatness that was so apparent.

By half time, the stands were going wild whenever Gus got the ball, and his tricky handling brought round after round of applause. The game's end brought the entire stands to their feet, and an ovation seldom heard was rendered. A tribute to the greatness of one of the game's greatest—Gus Seaman.

In a poll taken by five sportswriters and the four competing coaches, Gus Seaman and Charlie Stetson were unanimously elected to the All-Tournament Team of the New England District (NAIB). Colby College also placed two men on the team, and Providence College added one. Each of the selected All-Stars will receive a handsome trophy along with a miniature gold basketball in the near future.

Stetson, with 20 points in each of the contests, led the entire tournament in scoring, while Seaman with 32, also ranked among the top five.

Added laurels were heaped upon the UB cage squad last week when the Bridgeport Herald announced the All-District Team, composed of players from the University of Bridgeport, Fairfield University, and Arnold College.

The Bridgeport cagers monopolized the selections by placing three men on the first five, among them two repeaters from last year. The Knights selected for the honors were Gus Seaman, Dick LaBash, and Lou Saccone. Stan Suchenski of Fairfield, and Alvin Clinkstales, of Arnold, are the remaining members of the All-Star aggregation.

The UBers were further represented with the selection of Charlie Stetson to the second team, and the Honorable Mention awarded to Ernie Amarel. The selections were made by the three district coaches and The Herald's sports staff.

Incidentally, those trophies given to Gus Seaman and Lou Saccone were bought and tory. Congratulations on a fine season's record.
